

2017 COMBINING CHJA CLASSES (Revised 9/20/2017)

Combining Hunter, Equitation and Jumper Divisions

If, on the day of a CHJA affiliated show, any of the following divisions do not fill per CHJA requirements of a minimum of three entries, then show management may combine the classes but must run each of the combined divisions at the appropriate height according to CHJA rules for that division.

Riders competing in the combined class shall accumulate points in their appropriate division.

If the prize list indicates in advance that any of these divisions will be combined, then they will not be pointed by the CHJA with one exception:

Low Children's Jumpers and Low Adult Amateur Jumpers, and High Children's Jumpers and High Adult Amateur Jumpers may be pre-combined in the prize list as Low Children's/Adult Jumpers and High Children's/Adult Jumpers.

Allowing these divisions to be combined on the day of the show is to benefit CHJA members that are at the show but find the divisions they entered do not have 3 entrants or in the case of the Hunter Derby the required 4 entrants.

Junior and Adult Equitation
Children's Equitation and Modified Adult Equitation
Pony Hunters (S, M, L)
Children's Hunters (Horse and Pony)
Amateur Adult Hunters
Adult and Children's Hunters
A/O and Junior Hunters
Modified Children's and Modified Adult Hunters
Adult and Children's Jumpers
A/O and Junior Jumpers
Hunter Derby

Combining CHJA Medal Classes

Junior Medal and Adult Medal

If, on the day of a CHJA affiliated show, either a CHJA Junior Medal or a CHJA Adult Medal qualifying class does not fill according to CHJA requirements of a minimum of four entries, then show management may combine the classes. Riders competing in the combined class shall accumulate points in their appropriate Medal Class.

Children's Medal and Modified Adult Medal

If, on the day of a CHJA affiliated show, either a CHJA Children's Medal or a CHJA Modified Adult Medal qualifying class does not fill according to CHJA requirements of a minimum of four entries, then show management may combine the classes. Riders competing in the combined class shall accumulate points in their appropriate Medal Class.

If the prize list indicates in advance that any of Medal classes will be combined, then they will not be pointed by the CHJA.

Allowing these Medal classes to be combined on the day of the show is to benefit CHJA members that are at the show but find the qualifying class they entered does not have 4 entrants.
