

Practice Exam 12 & Under

- 1) If a pony measures 12.3h, what size classification would it be?
- 2) Draw a picture of a bar shoe.
- 3) True or false: a spur is a natural aid
- 4) What is the normal resting temperature for a horse?
- 5) On what piece of tack would you find a pommel?
- 6) Name two American breeds of horse
- 7) Which one of these is not an actual bit:
 - a) Full-cheek double twisted wire snaffle
 - b) Straight bar pelham
 - c) Eggbutt Spanish link
 - d) D-ring Dr. Bristol
- 8) When riding on grass, what often gets screwed into your horse's shoes?
- 9) How do you make a bran mash?
- 10) List three symptoms of lyme disease.
- 11) What medication is often prescribed by a doctor for lyme disease?
- 12) The average horse's stride is _____ feet long.
- 13) Where would you find the "white line" on your horse? (hint: not on the face)
- 14) Where would you find the "dock" on your horse?
- 15) What does it mean to have your horse or pony "drill and tapped?"
- 16) True or false: If your horse has a navicular issue, it has a problem in its eye.
- 17) Why would you use a riser or lollipop pad?
- 18) Name three other equestrian disciplines aside from hunter/jumper.
- 19) What is colic?
- 20) In a schooling area at a big show you'll often see flags on the top of the jump standards. What side of the jump is the red flag on?

Answers:

- 1) Medium
- 2) 0
- 3) False
- 4) 99-101
- 5) Saddle
- 6) Mustang, Quarter Horse, Appaloosa, Morgan, Saddlebred, Tennessee Walker, Rocky Mountain Horse, Standardbred, Chincoteague Pony, POA, Paint
- 7) C
- 8) Caulks or studs
- 9) Bran and Water
- 10) Fever, lameness, spookiness, increased laziness,
- 11) Doxycycline or tetracycline
- 12) 12
- 13) In the foot
- 14) Top of the tail
- 15) Your horse's shoes have holes drilled into them for studs
- 16) False
- 17) To raise up the back of your saddle
- 18) Dressage, Western Pleasure/Equitation, Endurance, Saddle Seat, Driving, Eventing, Reining, Polo, Vaulting

- 19) General term describing abdominal pain in the horse. Can be caused by gas or impaction. Ranges in severity from mild to life-threatening. A veterinarian should always be consulted in case of suspected colic.
- 20) The right